This important second edition was re-energized by the recent Academy award-winning movie, Spotlight. The author, and victim himself, set out to uncover why and how the Church could choose to ignore those it is supposed to protect. He exposes and documents the secrets the Church has hidden for close to a hundred years. He further relates, from a personal experience, how the binding orders from the last eight Popes, the supreme shepherds of the Church, continue to protect the Church itself and abusive priests, thereby failing the core responsibilities of the Church's foundation - to protect their flock from evil.
