In/Equality: An Alternative Anthropology, Second Edition Pem Davidson Buck

Highlights of the new and thoroughly updated Second Edition: A greater emphasis on contemporary issues of inequality provides the organizing principle for this new, thoroughly revised edition of In/Equality. A reorganization of the text that allows the instructor to move much more quickly through the study of varieties of non-state human social organization, allowing a greater focus on ethnography and analysis of contemporary social structures, while still providing students with the basic understanding that stratification is not an inevitable result of human nature. Gender issues in both egalitarian and non-egalitarian societies have been brought together in a single chapter on gender (Chapter 4), and then addressed again later in discussing the ideology of patriarchy in Chapter 6, entitled Maintaining Stratification. Chapters have been rewritten as needed so that, except for the first chapter, they can be assigned in any order the instructor chooses. New sections or discussions have been added, including indigenous peoples, ethnotourism, the concept of the commons, failed states, immigrant labor, neoliberalism and neoconservatism, the presidency of Barack Obama, the earthquake in Haiti, the human costs of war, and nation-building.
