The USFS has begun to produce a 10-map series of detailed topographic maps for the entire length of the Pacific Crest Trail - this is the first, covering the southern end of the Trail. These maps offer excellent detail of the trail, extensive text information on how to plan for the hike, Trail access, the local flora and fauna along the Trail, Leave No Trace guidelines, illustrative photos, and much more. Printed on waterproof, tear-resistant synthetic paper. The maps include five levels of road classification, including unmaintained 4DW roads, forest route and county road route numbers, equestrian access points, trailheads, and much more.
